

Not all honors in buildings and monuments to Prince in the networks are true

Posted April 22, 2016, Guilherme Sobota

Not everything on the internet is actually much less on Twitter. Since the night of Thursday, 21 day of the terrible news of the death of Prince, circulated on the networks monuments pictures - The Eiffel Tower, the Empire State, Niagara Falls - lit in purple , which would be a tribute to the artist .

+ 8 versions that prove the influence of Prince in pop music

In fact, the Niagara Falls were lit in color in honor of the 90th anniversary of Queen Elizabeth ... coincidentally on the same day of the death of Prince . Amazing.

An image of the Empire State circulated actually date from another period. In August 2015 , the building won the purple lighting in honor of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, a social organization of US war veterans.

Checks of foreign newspapers through EarthCam application on the evening of Thursday, 21, also denied pictures - false - the Eiffel Tower "painted" in purple.

But buildings in the US, less famous , indeed honored Prince at night this sad day.

As this bridge in Minnesota

The stadium 's baseball team Minnesota Twins

This office in the city

The San Francisco City Hall

The Terminal Tower in Cleveland , a city where getting the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame

The Superdome in New Orleans

And NASA posted this photo of a nebula purple in honor of the singer

Translated using Google Translate.

