Niagara Falls (earthcam.com/canada/niagarafalls/?cam=niagarafalls\_str) On Sunday my wife and I celebrated Canadian Thanksgiving (it's the second Monday of October). Since we just had a baby, we had her family come out from Toronto to sunny L.A. for turkey. It was great, but because it was 85°F and sunny, it didn't really feel like fall. It felt more like summer. So I Googled "Canada webcams" and this Niagara Falls webcam came up.

Of course, it didn't make it feel like fall but it did make us want to visit the falls again. If you haven't been, you should consider going. You can do it either from the Canadian or US side. From Buffalo it's an easy 20-minute drive and from Toronto it's 90 minutes. Have you been?
