By Barbara Miller - June 30, 2013

If you can't make it to Gettysburg, you can still watch the action of Pickett's Charge through a streaming webcam furnished by the National Park Service and EarthCam.

The live views will be available from 3-4:30 p.m. July 3 through a webcam atop the Nicholas Codori barn south of Gettysburg on the east side of Emmitsburg Road. The site was the scene of heavy fighting July 2 and proved to be an obstacle to advancing troops of Pickett's Charge on July 3.

Follow Pennlive's coverage of the 150th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg events as well.

The EarthCam will be online 24/7 and will deliver live streaming views around the clock, even after the 150th events.
