Feb 01, 2014 - by Pet Age Magazine Staff

Move over Puppy Bowl and Kitten Bowl, there is a new "Bowl" in town, the Fish Bowl.

Live from PetLife Stadium, fighting fish Mahi Manning and Wahoo Wilson will compete to bring the trophy back to their home "reef." Five cameras will bring viewers all the action and analytics will score one point for every time a player crosses into the end zone.

The Fish Bowl is the invention of the company, EarthCam, a global leader in delivering world class webcam content, technology and services. Fish Bowl festivities kick off at 3 p.m. Sunday, and be viewed at <http://www.earthcam.com/events/fishbowl/2014/>.

According to their press release, "these fierce competitors are going tail-to-tail for the ultimate prize in this first-ever match-up. All participants have agreed to play fair and use good sportsmanship, but that doesn't mean it won't be an exciting game. And be sure to stick around for a special halftime performance with musical guests, the boys from Liverpool."
