

Watch the 49ers' new stadium built in less than two minutes

By Jasmine Watkins - September 18, 2014 7:09am EDT

The 49ers christened their new stadium with a loss to the Bears on Sunday, but the night was still beautiful. It marked the end of the Candlestick Park era and the beginning of the new and improved Levi's Stadium era. With the help of EarthCam, we're able to see just how the stadium was built.

Candlestick will always have the nostalgia factor in its corner, but there's no denying this upgrade was for the better.

