

See Hurricane Lane for yourself: 7 Hawaii webcams to watch

By American-Statesman Staff • August 22, 2018

Hurricane Lane is on a path to hit the Hawaiian islands on Thursday. Take a look at the latest conditions in the islands through these webcams, which are usually dedicated to beautiful skies and pristine beaches.

Earthcam's webcams allow give the user some functionality to zoom and customize the view. See its cams at Waikoloa on the Big Island's northwestern coast, Koloa on the southern coast of Kauai and Poipu Beach, both on Kauai's southern coast.