September 2013 - January 2016

The $400 million “Daytona Rising” renovation of Daytona International Speedway began in September 2013 and its completion comes just in time for Speedweeks, beginning with the Rolex 24 at Daytona this week.

The project’s entirety can be seen in a two-minute time-lapse video released by the speedway Monday.

The video is made up of more than one million HD images captured from eight EarthCam robotic HD construction webcams and megapixel panoramic cameras.
